STATELY FOUR-IN-HANDS.

A COACHING PARADE AT THE HORSE SHOW. HORSE SENSE AND HUMAN INTELLIGENCE-

AWARDS OF PRIZES.

The notable feature of the horse show is that the horses know more than the men who undertake to handle them. "Pat" Lynch, a professional jockey, was badly cut about the head yesterday by a fall from the back of Floyd Ferris's Almont, a qualified hunter, who should have been disqualified for knowing more of the jumping business than his rider. Tom Boy, Charles Pfizer, jr.'s, hunter, knew that he could not jump anything, and tried hard to in-AWARDS OF PRIZES. he could not jump anything, and tried hard to in-still that knowledge into the brains of the judges, but he was persistently put at fences until he broke one all to pieces, stood on his head, caused a panic mong women and children and mashed some intelligence and tanbark into the head of the young man who rode him. Then he was permitted to retire.

There are a few conspicuous exceptions to this prevailing rule of know-nothingism—no allusion to Father

Abram—among the riders and reinsmen. But for Foxhall Keene's clever hands and able horsemanship. Duchess would not have taken even so small an honor as the white rosette in the jumping contest of green hunters. Neither would Thunder, Blazes, Locust and Iron have won the coveted blue rosette from three other four-in-hand teams if the reins had been held over them by a less skilful whip than F. T. Underbill. The parade of four-in-hands was the best exhibition of the day. Mr. Underhill's handsome browns, all over sixteen hands and perfectly trained, were handled with astonishing ease and confidence by their owner, who is an extremely slight young man and wears speciacles. His coach was black and orange, the latter color predominating. The second prize went to Charles P. Williams, jr.'s, team of chestnuts, Brown Bread, Ginger Snap, Tom nd Sherry. These horses, which were much lighter and Sherry. These horses, which were much lighter than Mr. Underhill's, drew a coach with red running gear and black body. F. K. Sturgis's four roans, Free Lance, Corsair, The Duke and Lady Lee, were poorly driven by a groom to a yellow and black coach. They are very bulky fellows and well matched, the sort for hard service. All that it needed was a dash of red here The awards in class 12, which comprised trot stallions over four years, caused heart burnings. J. S. Coates, the owner of Tariff, by Clarion Chief, was grieviously disappointed, declaring that his horse was overlooked by the indges. Tariff, he asserted, had the best individual record of the lot (2:20 3-4), yet he did not get so much as a white rosette. Trotting men, as a rule, thought that C. J. Hamlin's Mambrino King was entitled to the first prize, but it went to Bayonne Mrs. Langiry sent into the ring the best and best appointed lady's turnout in Cox and Hungarian, two superb brown geldings, who easily captured the blue rosette. Hawk and Vulture, and Mrs. John Wallace's Peacock and Dandy Jim also contended for the prize. Exhibitors continue to wear their numbers where they cannot be seen by the spectators. Two distinguished Canadians were among the hundreds of prominent persons who visited the garden in the course of the day. They were Sir Adolphe P. Caron, K. C. M. G., Q. C., Minister of Militia and Defence in the Dominion Government, and the Hon. J. S. D. Thompson, Minister of Justice. These gentlemen saw the tails of several horses decorated with men saw the Cars of the Harrison and Morton colors and heard Eben's Band play something that sounded like "Harrison's march to the Harlem." CREETING THEIR NEW LATIN PROFESSOR. Much enthusiasm was manifested at Columbia Colege yesterday morning, when it was generally known that Professor H. T. Peck had been elected to fill the that Professor H. T. Peck had been elected to fill the chair of Latin in the college. Acting-President Drisler announced the fact at the conclusion of the chapel exercises, stating that the choice of the trustees of the college had failen on the man whom both students and professors had preferred. He then spoke pleasantly of Dr. Peck, and was frequently interrupted by the cheers of the students. The second half of the juntor s was the first to attend in e recitation to the new Latin professor, and as Dr. Peck took his accuston chair as their instructor, he was warmly greeted by the college cheers. He rose and in a little speech thanked the students and expressed the hope that the roung men and he might work together harmoniously for the best interests of Columbia and her students.

BODIES FOUND IN THE RIVER.

The body of a drowned man about sixty-five year old, was found in the East River, at Pier No. 44. yesterday. Papers in the pockets indicated that the man was William Mersier, of No. 223 Park-row. The place at that number is a ten-cent lodging house. The clerk said that Mersler slept there four or five nights a week, and that he was a shoemaker, but that he did not know anything else about him. One of the lodgers named Murphy claimed to have seen Mersier in Butler's saloon, at the corner of Park-row and Mulberry-st. at 10 o'clock yesterday moroing. An unknown man's body was found in the North River at Twentieth-st.

THE FEELING ON 'CHANGE. SURE OF BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT.

BANKERS, RAILWAY MEN, STOCK, PRODUCE, OIL

AND COFFEE BROKERS IN HIGH SPIRITS. Business was resumed at the Stock Exchange yeserday with a Republican shout, whose echoes are be ing repeated from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts. There was a bit of sportiveness before the Republican nembers realized that they were taking an unfair ad. vantage of a prostrate enemy. The opinion of the Republican brokers was expressed in these words by General Collis, who saw a good deal of active service: Mr. Cleveland was the offspring of an accident. For four years the loyal people of the North have been compelled quietly to bide their time. The day been compelled quietly to lide their their conformed on Tuesday. It sounded the death-knell of the Rebel brigadiers. They will return home from their foreign missions, vacate their comfortable berths at the National Capital and give place to the men who kept them in the Union. Never again will a Copperhead be elected to the Presidency; never again will a Rebel be placed upon the bench of the United States Supreme Court; never again will we hear of the "Solid South." The period of four years of paralysis, resulting from Mr. Cleveland's grotesque elevation to the Presidency, will be followed by four years of unparalleled prosperity, during which the Grand Old Party will give us all the revenue reform the country needs, and Mr. Mills and his associate incompetents will be sent to the rear. This fight was not won by the "fariff craze." The vote in the mannufacturing localities demonstrates this. The veterans and the sons of veterans were the men who did it. There are tens of thousands of men living to-day who would never have gone to the front during the war had they know lint the day would cone when the leaders of the Rebel Army and their Copperhead allies would control the Government.

Addison Cammack, the bear leader in Wall Street of reckening came on Tuesday. It sounded the death-control the Government.

Addison Cammack, the bear leader in Wall Street speculation, who was born and bred a Democrat, was not disturbed by the result of the election. "I admit that we are buried beyond redemption," he said, with a great laugh, "but I hope to outlive the defeat." For the first time in his life, Mr. Cammack threw a Republican ticket for an Alderman in his district.

Jesse Siligman said: Jesse Sliigman said:
There is little to say regarding the election. It speaks for itself. It pleases me because I think the decision will be of benefit to the businss interests of the country. The tariff agliation in the line of free trade is killed for at least four years, and the financial questions that will confront the Administration will be dealt with by the Republican party in the successful way in which it has conducted legislation in the past. William Lanman Bull, president of the Stock Exchange, said :

change, said:

As a Republican, I am gratified at the result and I believe it will be well received in financial circles. I, for one, did not believe that there was any "crisis" involved in the election, but there were fears by the manufacturers and now their fears have been allayed, a result certainly encouraging to the country. The near future will turn upon the financial policy pursued by the Administration, but now that the election controversy is over, I think that a better feeling will be generally found. Colonel Thomas L. Watson, vice-president of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, said: solidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, said:

The result means that the country trusts the Republican party as the best Civil Service reformer and the best tariff reformer. Right on all questions, the party can meet all contingencies and conditions in the statesmanlike and conservative spirit that has inspired its legislation in the past. It will give the country all the tariff reform and all reform of every sort which it requires, but the industries of the land have been assured that protection is the base and crown of all economic measures.

The Harrison "hove" in the Consolidated Stock and

The Harrison "boys" in the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange could not help having a little fun at the expense of their opponents yesterday. A little at the expense of their opponents yesterday. A fittle before 1 o'clock the tip was passed about not to buy oil, but to "buil" Harrison, and in a moment there was a big throng down in the railway stock crowd yelling and singing the familiar cries and songs of the campaign. After fifteen minutes of hilarity the crowd dispersed and the ordinary aspect of the Exchange was resumed.

The Republican brokers on the Produce Exchange were also jubilant yesterday. A procession marched several times around the Exchange, accompanied by a giee club, the music being supplied by a varied selection of fish-horns. Many of them expressed their satisfaction over the result of the election, as follows:

EDWARD ANNAN: I consider it a glorious victory, and I am perfectly satisfied with the result.

JOHN D. ELWELL: The election of Harrison and Morton is one of the grandest triumphs in our political history. The Republican party has developed itself among the masses, and will now continue to gain strength.

FRANKLIN L. WOODRUFF: This is a grand and glorious victory for the Republicans. All the talk of the Democrats of counting us out is mere bluff and the boys know it. We have won and mean to of the Democrats of counting us out is mere bluff and the boys know it. We have won and mean to stay there.

W. B. KING, of the Cotton Exchange: I am glad of the result of the election. All worked hard and the result is well earned. When I saw that parade on Saturday it inspired me with confidence.

C. W. IDE: My feeling is that the election of General Harrison will give confidence to the manufacturing interests of the country, and particularly the cotton spinners. The change of Administration that will now ensue will certainly tend to the improvement of the cotton trade.

S. F. RUSSELL: I feel jubilant. The result of the election will have a beneficial effect on the cotton trade. Many of the spinners have been holding back orders to see the result of the vote, and I am confident that they will not have any hesitation in buying, now the thing is settled.

WILLIAM RAY: It is generally conceded by the Democrats and others of independent politics on the floor of the Cotton Exchange that General Harrison is going to give the country a good Administration.

NATHAN HEDMANN: The country is safe. I think it will benefit the cotton trade.

GEORGE DRAKELEY, on the Coffee Exchange: The return of the Republican party to power means increased prosperity.

GEORGES SKNUTZ, Democrat: I think the election of General Harrison will improve business. Things will be more settled, and merchants will give their orders more freely.

T. W. NICHOLS: I am a Democrat, but I voted for Harrison. I think this country will witness a boom in trade for the next three or four years beyond the expectations of the most sanguine persons. I believe that free trade killed the prospects of the present Administration.

WILLIAM THOMPSON, Democrat: I am a Protect of the country is a first in the country will witness and boom in trade for the most sanguine persons. I believe that free trade killed the prospects of the present Administration.

WILLIAM THOMPSON, Democrat: I am a Protectionist, I think that Mr. Cleveland's 'ariff message was a free-trade document.

HEWITT SAYS HE IS NOT SORRY. COL FELLOWS, HE THINKS, WILL STAND AS A BULWARK AGAINST TAMMANY CORRUP-TION-THE COUNTY DEMOCRATS

HAVE LITTLE TO SAY. Yesterday a Tribune reporter asked Mayor Hewitt

"I feel that I have done my duty," said Mr. Hewitt. "If I had deserted and refused the call to be a can-didate, I should have regretted it while I lived. But I did not run away. I accepted the situation, when I knew that I had an unequal fight. I looked to the citizens of New-York, irrespective of party, to stand by me and the cause of good government. That they failed to do so is no fault of mine. For my own part, I am glad to be relieved of the duties of the office. I can look back upon my service to the city with no The Republican vote to the amount of 25,000 was given, I believe, to Mr. Grant. To the amount of 10,000, possibly, the same vote came to me. It would appear that 5,000 Republicans did not vote upon the Mayoralty at all."

"What do you think of the result in the country?"
"I am glad of one thing, and that is that the result shows that my candidacy had no prejudicial effect upon the Presidential election. My running did not take a vote from the magnificent majority of President Cleveland in this city. There is one thing, however, which I hope that the newspapers that have opposed me will see now, and that is the wisdom of my sup-port of Colonel Fellows last year for District-Attorney. If I had failed to do exactly as I did, the same or ganization which has succeeded in placing its hands upon the city government would have captured also the great machinery of the Department of Justice. It has been saved from their control through my ex-

"I took Colonel Fellows as a choice of evils. Tainmany was willing to accept him as a compromise. It was the best I could do. It was the only possible way to prevent Tammany Hall from getting control of the District-Attorney's office. The time will come when the people will see and admit the wisdom of my action. I do not believe that Colonel Fellows can be used or captured by Tammany. As for myself, I am wholly without regrets. I shall surrender the office of Mayor gladly and am eager to be relieved of its responsibilities." Controller Myers was seen yesterday by a Tribune reporter who said to him: "Won't you be among the County Democrats who will be seeking admission to Tammany Hall before the end of the year ?"

"Possibly," replied Mr. Myers, with a sad smile. "Possibly," replied Mr. Myers, with a sad smile.

made a clean sweep," he said. "They have got everything and they ought to be allowed all the rope they want. They won't be long in showing their hand."

MISSIONARY WORK IN THIS CITY.

VICE FROM PROMINENT MINISTERS. /

The Church of the Holy Communion, Twentieth-st. and Sixth-ave., was crowded yesterday by an aunce composed almost entirely of women workers in religious and charitable missions throughout the city, who had met to hear addresses on the methods which such work could be best accomplished. by and Dangers of Parochialism." vehement in his denunciations of that narrow sectarian spirit which would confine the work of religion and charity to one particular church. The Rev. Dr. H. To Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, Y. Satterlee also spoke on the incalculable good that might be accomplished by volunteer missions.

The Rev. Dr. D. H. Greer, of St. Bartholomew's, followed with a brief lecture on "Parish and City Mis-sions to Non-English-Speaking People." The burden of the discourse was to the effect that as foreigners who came to these shores passed through that door which admitted them to all the rights and privileges of American citizenship, so they should pass through that other door that led to the true understanding and appreciation of the teachings of Christianity. Here, in this land, in this very city, was an Inexhaustible field for the laborer who had the cause of true Christianity at heart and who was desirous of inculcating its divine teachings into the mind of the heathen and the scoffer. It was strange, indeed, to see missions dispatched abroad to teach the lessons of the Bible in foreign lands, when it was possible to fulfil the Saviour's behest to spread the Gospel amongst all nations of the earth without leaving Manhattan Island. The large audience listened with attention. Bishop Potter presided.

HONORS TO A RETIRING SCHOOL OFFICER. The seat occupied by Commissioner William Wood, the oldest member of the Board of Education, was vacant at the meeting yesterday for the first time in twenty years. In his resignation Mr. Wood said that he had promised his family that he would not accept another appointment in the board after he had entered on his eighty-first year, and that he hoped now, on retiring, to "crown a youth of labor with an age of ease." President Simmons presented resolutions expressing the high appreciation of the members for Mr. Wood's labors, and tendering him an expression of their gratitude and regard. mons made a short address, in which he referred to the position occupied by Mr. Wood in the schools. He was first appointed in May, 1869, and elected for four consecutive years president of the board. for four consecutive years president of the board. He was also one of the organizers of the Normal College, and delivered the address at the laying of the corner-stone of that institution. "No other commissioner is so well known as Mr. Wood," President Simmons said, "and he has been in every class-room of the 300 schools, from the Battery to the limits of the Annexed District."

The resolutions and address were ordered printed, and Mr. Wood was tendered the freedom of the floor of the board during his life. It is reported that General Alexander P. Ketchum has been offered by Mayor Hewitt the appointment to succeed Mr. Wood.

A BEAUTIFUL FLOWER FROM JAPAN. The opening of the fall flower show of the New-Jersey Floricultural Society took place in the Har-rison Street Rink, East Orange, yesterday. Only cut flowers are shown, but the exhibition is a re-markable one and includes a number of novel features in floriculture. " Mrs. Hardy," a new chrysanthen from Japan, is a magnificent flower and a special favorite of the show. It is exhibited by James R Pitcher, of Short Hills, and is said to be the only one in the country. It was bought at a price running into across and is four inches high. The principal ex-hibits are chrysanthenums, orchids and palm ferns, Massachusetts Ohlo, Pennsylvania, New York, New-Jersey and other States are represented in the col-lection.

JERSEY CITY.

Some drunken men created a disturbance in William Kaufinchie's beer shop, No. 165 Columbia-ave., at an The five-story brownstone dwelling at No. 241 early hour yesterday morning and the proprietor ejected them. One of them threw a paving st Kaufinchie, which struck him on the head and fractured his skull, inflicting a probably fatal injury. He was removed to the City Hospital. Leonard Schroder and Richard Schilliben were arrested and held to awaft the result of Kaufinchie's injuries.

Leonard Davidson, age twenty-six, of Norfolk-st. New-York, was struck by a Central railroad train in the Communipaw yard yesterday and fatally injured. Assemblyman Feeney has announced that in case

PACKENHAM SAYS HE HAS DELUSIONS.

HE CLAIMS TO REMEMBER NOTHING ABOUT THE KILLING OF HIS WIFE.

The trial of Patrick Packenham, accused of the murder of his wife, was resumed yesterday before Recorder Smyth. Assistant District-Attorney Fitzgerald called police officers to testify as to the arrest of Packenham and then rested his case. Packenham's counsel in his opening address said that the defence would prove a case of alcoholic insanity. The defendant was the first witness called in his own behalf. He is an elderly man with thin hair brushed back from his forehead, and a heavy gray beard. He has heavy bushy eyebrows and deep-set eyes, which are partly concealed by iron-bound spectacles. He has the appearance of a steady and intelligent artisan, and is as far removed as possible, in appearance, from the typical murderer. his testimony in a low voice and with a slight brogue. He showed fair intelligence. He said that he was fifty-eight years old and a painter by trade. of a sunstroke which he had received and of a blow on the head, which left a scar. He said that when he became intoxicated he did not know what he did. told of drinking at several liquor stores on the Saturday before the murder. He had lost his remembrance of the events of Saturday evening and he declared that his memory was a blank as to the occurrences of Sunday afternoon and evening, including the killing of his wife. The witness, in answer to Mr. Purdy's questions, said that on four occasions he had endeavored to take his own life.

"Do you have any delusions?" Mr. Purdy asked.
"Yes. I often see little men dancing around in a queer way before my eyes." Mr. Purdy-And how about that delusion you spoke of to me? The witness-The other day-it may have been ort of dream-I saw hell.

Mr. Purdy-Please describe. The witness-It seemed to me a vault-like place, perhaps sixty feet square, and there were a lot of "cranks" and drunkards and other people there being punished. The "cranks" were in one corner and the drunkards in another corner, and they were under-going different kinds of punishments. Packenham's testimony was completed. Medical testimony will be given to-day as to alcoholic in-

The burial was at Greenwood Cemetery.

SUICIDE OF A DISORDERLY WOMAN. A disorderly young woman, known to the police as Nettle Connors, committed suicide at No. 19 Second-st. yesterday afternoon. She drank carbolle acid after writing a letter in which she declared that "Pete" Bennett's want of love for her had caused her desperation. Bennett had lived with her in the house ne time ago she was said to be married to Callahan, alias Charles Smith, a Bowery thief, who was sent to prison for stabbing Herman Gottoway woman came to this city from Boston, where she had respectable relatives. THIEVES WITH GOODS STOLEN AT ALLENTOWN. John Grouse and Charles Smith were in the Tombs Police Court yesterday, charged with larceny. Officer Haugh saw two boys in front of No. 86 Bayard-st., attempting to sell a lot of silverware. They could give no satisfactory account of where they got the goods and the officer arrested them. They had in their possession eighteen knives, fourteen forks, seventy-two spoons, ten salt castors, one clock, ten trays, three tablecloths and some other articles. It was learned that the boys had stolen the property from Mrs. Morey, the proprietor of the Holly Free Coffee House in Alientown, Penn. They were remanded by Justice White.
